As of today, after many grueling weeks of agnozing over mod_rewrites not working on one of our domains, barefootski dot com_ is now back in full working order THANKS to our webhost. Recently, our webhost was acquired by a new management team, that would be making a number of important changes to provide it's customers with an even more reliable, dynamic, feature-rich hosting environment, without raising prices.

AWESOME! We said!

Well, after a few weeks of a minor glitch on one of our domains, barefootski.com, Powweb has officially migrated our site to their new infrastructure and we will say that so far we are pleased.

Keep it up powweb and you'll have a customer for life.
